TRIBUTE

"THE character of Lee rises like a huge mountain above the undulating plane of humanity, and one must lift his eyes toward heaven to reach its summit. He possessed every great virtue of other commanders without their vices. He was a foe without hate; a friend without treachery; a victor without oppression, and a victim without murmuring. He was a public officer without vices; a private citizen without reproach; a Christian without hypocrisy, and a man without guile. He was a Cæsar without his ambition; a Frederick without his tyranny; a Napoleon without his selfishness, and a Washington without his reward. He was obedient as a servant and loyal in authority as a king, as gentle as a woman in life, modest and pure as a virgin in thought; watchful as a Roman vestal in duty; submissive to law as Socrates, and grand in battle as Achilles."

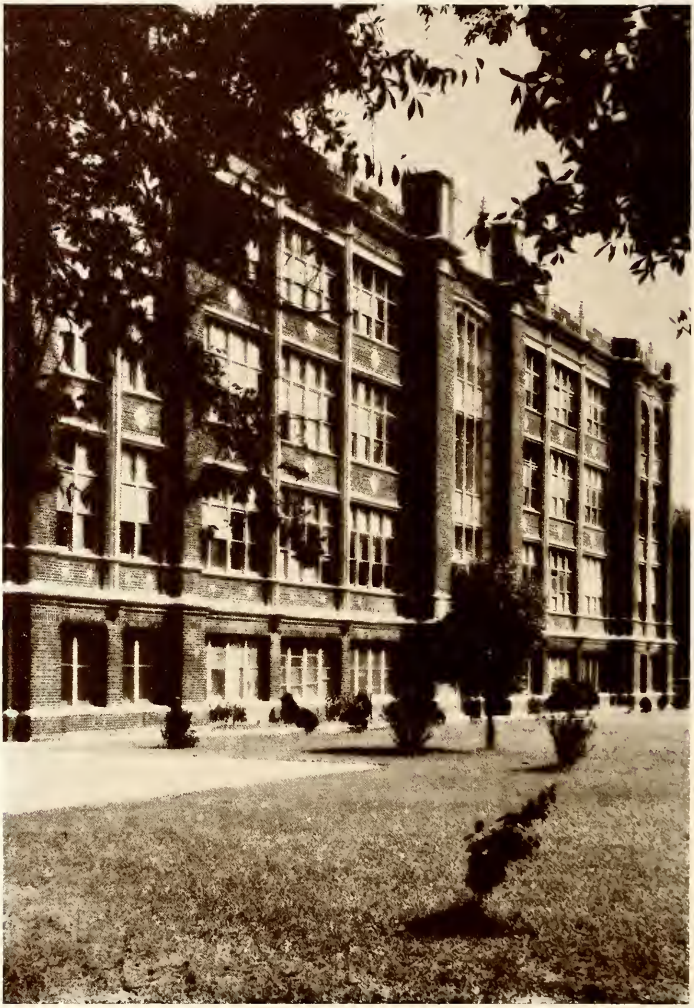
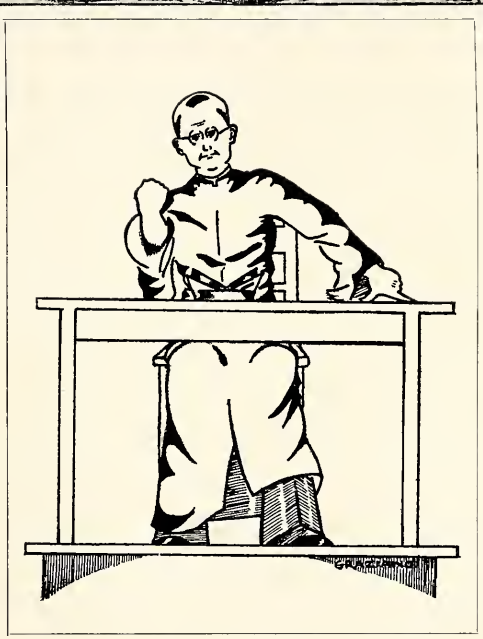
LEE AT CHANCELLORSVILLE

On May 3, 1863, the final assault was made upon the Federal lines at Chancellorsville. The troops pressed forward with all the ardor and enthusiasm of battle, the artillery shook the earth with its thunder, the air was filled with the shrieks of the shells, fired at the retreating foe. Into this midst, General Lee rode to the front of the advancing battalions. One long, unbroken cheer rose, acclaiming the presence of their victorious chief.





ADMINISTRATION

President's Message

To the Loyola Student Body:

To say that the United States and the whole world are today passing through a crisis is a commonplace. At least the economic depression has brought this home partially to everyone. But economics and finances are not the only things that confront us. There are other and even more important things of vital moment to every real American who loves his country: the very principles and the spirit on which our government is founded are called in question; the authority and the worth of our American Constitution is being probed; the meaning and object and method of true education are confessedly not understood; Russia hurls a challenge in the face of the world that is political, economic, religious.

You, Loyola Students, are part of the generation that must face and settle these problems. More than fifty years ago a great American writer, a fighting man, Orestes A. Brownson, proclaimed that the Catholic Church is the bulwark of the American Constitution. That statement is truer today than when it was first made. At Loyola we want you to learn the Catholic and American principles that will arm you in the future to fight for America, for American ideals, for the real American spirit.

MR. HENRY J. MILLER

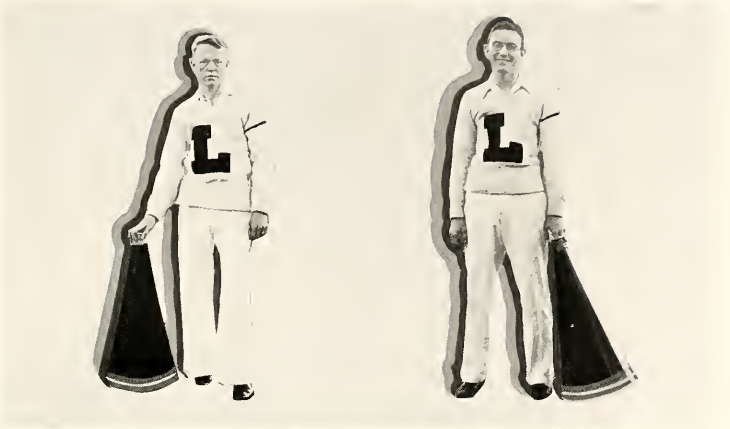
President of the American Society of Certified Public Accountants

This page of the 1932 Wolf is respectfully dedicated to Mr. Miller as a token of appreciation and in recognition of the great honor bestowed upon him.

LEE CONFERRING WITH JACKSON

The untimely death of General Stonewall Jackson was a great blow to General Lee, who spoke of him as his "right arm." A number of successful battles are said to be due to Lee's generalship and Jackson's fighting. Jackson's fame and success mounted to dazzling heights, but his esteem for Lee was even greater. This affection and admiration was fully returned by General Lee, who had the utmost confidence in Jackson, whom he consulted upon every occasion and confided in as his personal friend.

ATHLETICS



Loyola Pep

The 1932 Wolf would go to press incomplete should we fail to include some mention of the men who gave their time and energy to create a spirit at the University. From the first days of the present session the cheerleaders have endeavored to make things hum at Loyola and these men, ably assisted by the Student Council, were rewarded for their efforts.

With the opening of the football season, they concentrated on producing pep at the games. By the way the boys backed the team, by the way the frosh sat in the rain and displayed that true Loyola spirit, by the way they yelled whether the team was winning or losing, shows what these boys accomplished.

But this was only a part of what they accomplished. Before the games there were monster pep parades. Automobiles decorated in the Maroon and Gold of Loyola paraded the downtown section. The frosh attired in various costumes attending a hearse which bore the visiting victim and the Loyola band in full costume were other features of these pep gatherings. Bonfires at the stadium, and Loyola Nights at the downtown theatres also added to the fun.

And so it is that we turn with admiration to such men as Joe Barrois, Leo Zinser, John Blasi, Paul Reising and countless others, who, with the untiring aid of the Director of Student Activities, contributed so much to building a greater spirit at Loyola.

Coaches

Clark D. Shaughnessy, head coach of Loyola of the South, is widely recognized as one of the greatest offensive coaches in the country. Shaughnessy is a mighty hard worker, a good sport, and when given the right kind of co-operation will produce a winning eleven. With the present prospects, he should bring us an undefeated football team next year.

Ably aiding Shaughnessy is Junior Lopez, a brainy boy who was trained by Shaughnessy and developed into one of the smartest quarterbacks ever seen in New Orleans.

Tad Gormley trains the athletes at Loyola and anyone who has been under his care will vouch for Tad one hundred percent. Tad trains the boxers and has given Loyola a national champion and several Southern leaders, as well as giving us a S. I. A. A. track championship and the Southern A. A. U. crown.

Ham Weddle, former Loyola star, is the coach of the freshman squad, and Ham has made a great success of his assignment for this year. He led the frosh to victories over Vanderbilt, Southeastern, and the Aggies. From this freshman squad, the varsity coaches will find suitable material for a great eleven.

Clem Sehrt, that fiery, spirited lineman who was the main cog in the successes of the 1930 edition of the Pack, is in charge of the line. Clem is well worthy of his position and is capable of teaching these boys a great deal.

Shorty West, whose main work centers around having the fields kept in condition, and the work around the gym running smoothly, lends a hand with the athletes, and when Tad is away on a trip with the varsity, the burden of caring for the frosh and others falls on Shorty. And Shorty does it well.

Season's Review

Loyola of the South opened the football campaign of 1931 with an overwhelming victory over the Louisiana College eleven on the night of September 18. Coach Shaughnessy used practically every man on the squad and the fans had little chance to see the regulars swing into action. This Louisiana College aggregation was a game bunch, but was no match for the Pack.

The following week, Loyola was host to St. Edwards of Texas. This game was another easy victory for the Wolves, although it was more of a contest than the opener. It was in this game that the Pack displayed team work and fight that caused sport writers to predict an unblemished record for the Pack. St. Ed. fought hard and kept threatening the Loyola goal with a neat passing attack, but the final whistle found the Wolves on the long end of the score.

The first setback of the season followed these successive wins. Chattanooga surprised with a 7-0 win. This was one of the hardest fought games of the season, and battle as they did the Wolves were unable to turn back the Tennessee boys.

This game, played on a wet field, furnished many thrills, and the great defensive stands shown by the Pack consistently brought the stands to their feet. The line stood out prominently in this encounter.

Smarting under the pangs of the defeat at the hands of Chattanooga, the representatives of Loyola were out to break into the win column and to avenge that defeat of last year. A defeat that was the only stain on a splendid record. Thus it was an inspired team that took the field against Oglethorpe and sent the Petrels home with a 12-7 licking. Little Mickey Moore stood out in the encounter, but the shining light of the day was the powerful fullback, Arnaud Lopez, who, not satisfied with crashing the Oglethorpe line for consistent gains, covered himself with glory with his defensive play, stopping at least a half-dozen Oglethorpe threats. The Wolves meet the Petrels again this year, and a great game should result.

Mississippi surprised by holding the Pack to a pair of markers and won the respect of the fans by their great defensive play and their consistent aerial attack.

The next game found the Wolves encountering an old foe. This game was to decide the winner of a three-out-of-five contest, for in the four previous meetings each team had won two. Hence, when the Wolves embarked for Detroit they were out to get Detroit. But the tables were turned, for October 31st saw a powerful Titan eleven, playing inspired football, and led by the brilliant play of Rocky Parsaca, turn back the Wolves by a 21-0 score. The Wolves tried hard, and by the efforts of Lopez and Zeldon brought the ball deep into enemy territory, but were unable to put it over.

St. Louis, feeling that they should take up the work where the Titans left off, came to New Orleans to hand the Pack a stinging 32-0 defeat. This game was the biggest surprise of the season and gave the impression that the Pack was finished for the season. But in spite of such indications, the Wolves showed that old Loyola spirit and came back to give a great exhibition of brilliant play.

St. Xavier, whom the Wolves had defeated last year, came South all prepared to go home with furs for their coats, but the Wolves had decided to keep these skins, and accordingly they battled this Cincinnati aggregation into submission and came out of the tussle with a two-touchdown margin. Little Mickey Moore was the star of the Wolves' offense and slipped through the Xavier defense for both scores.

Then came the season's finale. Santa Clara of California. This highly rated Western aggregation got the surprise of their life when a stubborn Loyola team held them to a 13 to 7 win and almost snatched victory from their grasp. It was in this game that the Wolves flashed their best attack and showed true form. Their play in the third quarter would have sufficed to conquer any national champion, and had they been able to carry on thus to the end, they probably would have come out the victors.

Thus, we came to the close of another season and, though it was not an overwhelming success, we are proud of the boys; for, win or lose, they played clean football and showed true sportsmanship. We salute Loyola's warriors of 1931—we greet those of 1932.

Freshman Football

The outlook for the frosh at the beginning of the season was most favorable, and there was the prediction of the greatest freshman football team in the history of Loyola. This prediction was a little far fetched, but while this edition of the Pups was not the greatest, it was well worthy of representing Loyola on the gridiron.

The frosh opened against the Poplarville Aggies, and led by Captain Joe Beach and Alternate Captain Albert Winters they battled hard to gain a 6-0 win over the Mississippi boys. The touchdown came as a result of Jimmy Lopez recovering a fumble behind the goal line. The outstanding men in the game were the Sullivan boys, Jimmy Lopez and Frank Tullos in the line, while Joe Beach and Ed Jones stood out in the backfield.

The Millsaps frosh gave the Loyola team its only setback of the season when they defeated the Wolf Pups, 14-0, in a hard-fought game. This defeat seemed to awaken the frosh to life and they came back strongly to defeat a powerful Vanderbilt team, 20-6. Joe Beach with his running and passing, aided by Ed Jones were the outstanding backs for Loyola. Tullos, Sullivan, Ballatin and Beter stood out in the line.

The final game of the season was played in Hammond, where the Pups met the Southeastern College aggregation. The Wolves showed their wares when they flashed to a 26-0 win over the Sou'easterners and uncovered a plunging and running back in Miller, who, the railbirds say, will bear plenty of watching when the '32 season rolls around.

The season on the whole was a successful one, and the men going up from this year's freshmen should furnish lots of good material to mould into a powerful varsity eleven.

The season's record:

Loyola	6;	Poplarville	0
Loyola	0;	Millsaps	14
Loyola	20;	Vanderbilt	6
Loyola	26;	Southeastern	0

Edward Flynn

Emmett Toppino

Emmett Toppino—Loyola's Cinder Flash

Emmett Toppino, entitled the Maroon Flash from Loyola of the South, has spread the name of Loyola far and wide by his sensational running and has brought home the bacon on numerous occasions when the cream of the speedsters of the U. S. A. and abroad were in the midst of the competition.

Top has for the last three years outrun every dash man in Southern competition and holds the S. I. A. A. and S. A. A. U. records in the 220 and the 100-yard dashes. Last year in the West he was defeated only by a hair's breadth by Frank Wyckoff, present holder of the world's 100-yard dash record. Following this, Top was chosen to represent the U. S. A., together with a galaxy of outstanding American athletes, in a series of meets abroad. It was on this trip that he established several records and aided the American track team to win each of the meets engaged in.

At present he is training for the Olympic trials, and, as three men are chosen for each event, Top and Wyckoff will probably be two of the three to represent the U. S. A. in the coming games.

Following is Top's record for the past year:

Loyola-Southwestern dual meet	Won, time 10
Sectional S. I. A. A. dual meet	Won, time 9.8
S. I. A. A. Championship meet	Won, time 9.7
Southern A. A. U.	Won, time 9.6
National Collegiate A. A. (Chicago)	Won, heat 9.5, third in finals
Southern Pacific A. A. U. (Los Angeles)	Second to Wyckoff, finals
Port Elizabeth, South Africa	Won, 9.8
Queenstown, South Africa	Won, 9.6
Durban, South Africa	Won, 10.4
Pretoria, South Africa	Won, 9.9
Johannesburg, South Africa	Won, 9.6
Kimberly, South Africa	Second to Legg
Capetown, South Africa	Won, 9.6

Eddie Flynn—Welterweight Champion of the World

Eddie Flynn, the world's welterweight champion and a member of the boxing team of Loyola of the South, has an enviable record.

Eddie came to Loyola, the champion of the State of Florida, having won every fight that he had participated in. Under the direction of Tad Gormley, boxing and track coach at the University, he was brought along to win the S. A. A. U. amateur crown. Eddie was then in the limelight of the boxing world and was the main feature on every boxing card in which he appeared. He swept all opposition aside and was chosen to represent the United States in the welterweight division in a series of boxing matches in New York with the European champions from Italy. In one of the most colorful fights of his career Eddie met and defeated the Italian champion, who held the crown of the foreign countries.

Eddie has participated in some one hundred and twenty odd fights and has never been defeated.

At present he is training for the Olympic trials and is the South's best bet to represent the United States in the welterweight division in the coming games.

The 1932 Track Team

The Prospects For 1932

As we go to press, the prospects for the 1932 track season are most promising. Among the fold of men now training diligently, we find many old regulars who have carried the colors of the University for several seasons and have in the past been chief factors in the success of Loyola track teams.

Again this year, as in the seasons past, Tad Gormley, the congenial track coach of Loyola of the South, is carefully training the men, each in his respective event with the hope of a most successful year and a winner in every event.

Among the men now working daily on the cinder paths is Eddie Gonzales, the miniature sprinter who is taking the place of the Loyola flash, Emmett Toppino, in the intercollegiate meets. Gonzales runs the 100 and the 220 and promises to make a great showing in the coming season. Perrin Connor and George Leppert are the 440 representatives, and in the half-mile Robert Hammond, Paul Barker and George Leppert are the Maroon runners. Albert Rose and Robert Hammond are the milers with James Everett, Alfred Everett, and John Schiro running the two-mile grind.

Among the field event representatives we find Marvin Chachere in the high jump, Bob Smith and Chachere in the discus, Bob Smith in the javelin and Chachere in the shot put.

Among the promising freshmen are Henry Kaack and Claude Landry in the hurdles, Jimmie Steiffel in the sprints, Bob Pryor in the middle-distances, Bill Deasy and Anthony Rossi in the distances, Mat Ballatin in the weights and Charles Bailey in the high jumps.

The probable schedule of this year's track team includes a dual meet with Southwestern of Lafayette and with Louisiana State University of Baton Rouge. The Southwestern Relays in March and the All-State Track Meet in April at Baton Rouge, sponsored by L. S. U., will be other high spots on the track schedule. The S. I. A. A. meet in South Carolina, the S. A. A. U. meet in June and the Olympic tryouts complete the main activities of the Loyola runners.

Record of 1931

Lafayette Relays at Lafayette	Won
Loyola-Southwestern Dual Meet	Won
S. I. A. A. District Meet at Alexandria	Won
S. I. A. A. Conference Meet at Memphis	Won
S. A. A. U. Senior Day Meet	Won

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM

Cross Country

The cross country team had a very successful season and was the winner in the important races of 1931-32. It won the team prize of all six races in which it entered and scored actual first place in four of the six. The team was composed of the following men: John Schiro, Albert Rose, Robert Hammond, Alfred Everett, William Deasy, Anthony Rossi, Jimmie Steiffel, Perrin Connor, Paul Barker, Bernard Fonseca, and Earl LaBiche.

The record of this year's cross country team was as follows:

Gayosa A. C. Race, won with actual first place.
Pontchartrain A. C. Race, won with actual first place.
B. K. of A. Race, won with actual first place.
Loyola Handicap Race, won with actual first place.
Y. M. H. A. Race, won with actual first place.
A. A. U. Race, won without actual first place.

Prospects For '33 Cross Country

The outlook for next season is indeed most favorable. The majority of the men who compose this year's team will return, and many new men will endeavor to fill the vacancies of the graduates. With Tad directing, and with the spirit that characterizes this year's runners prevailing, the team can look forward to a great season in '33.

BOXING

EDWARD FLYNN DENNIS FLYNN

Boxing

Boxing was inaugurated at the University in 1929 and, in the past few years, has grown to be one of the popular sports on the campus.

The team coached by Tad Gormley, recognized as the dean of track and boxing coaches, has set a winning streak that has never been broken, and has gained fame and prominence throughout the country.

The Loyola team boasts of one national champion, one Southern A. A. U. champion and two of the most promising fighters that ever donned the colors of the University.

Eddie Flynn, the welterweight representative and present holder of the World's Amateur Crown, is the outstanding member of the squad and has held many an audience spellbound with his uncanny jabs and lightning-like boxing. Eddie has engaged in over one hundred bouts and has never been defeated in any of his engagements.

James Beeson, the middleweight man of the team and holder of the Southern A. A. U. crown, holds the distinction of being the only man to win an A. A. U. crown after having fought only five bouts previous to the title match. Beeson is the dynamite puncher of the squad, possessing in his right all the necessary requisites for producing hay-makers. Such speedy progress has caused the fight fans to look forward to his winning the National crown and thereby giving Loyola two champions.

Dennis Flynn, the brother of Eddie, and himself the runner-up in the National Championship in the middleweight class, is another stalwart member of the University's team. His power to take as well as give has made him one of the most popular fighters of the squad, and, though not possessing Eddie's power, fights in that Flynn style and can be depended on to come through when a victory is needed.

James Beeson

Bentley Byrnes

Bentley Byrnes is the bantam weight representative, and while not having the experience of the Flynn boys, is making rapid progress and shows signs of becoming a promising boxer. Bentley handles himself neatly in the ring and clings to scientific boxing rather than slugging.

These men composed the team which has represented the University and the New Orleans division of the A. A. U. in the boxing series in Kansas City, Chicago, and on two occasions in New Orleans and New York. They have participated in several benefit shows and have drawn capacity houses on all occasions.

This year finds several new men on the team. Roger Flynn, younger brother of Dennis and Eddie is creating a sensation by demonstrating a brand of fisticuffs that is typically "Flynn." The boxing fans look for Roger to follow in the footsteps of his brothers, and become one of the stalwarts of Loyola in the boxing world.

Bill McHardy is another aspirant in the boxing field and is working hard under the direction of Tad.

Chester Schmitz is another of the Maroon fighters who maintains an enviable record. Chester is a light heavyweight with the speed of a bantam, possessing a powerful left.

The team this year meets several Southern universities and will have a representative in the Olympic trials, who is one of the South's best bets to represent the United States in the coming games.

THE WILDERNESS—"LEE TO THE REAR"

The 10th of May, 1864, found the Confederate lines badly broken near Spottsylvania. Disaster seemed imminent as Lee rode to the front of the ranks. General Gordon spurred to Lee's side and, turning to the gallant troops, said: "Is it necessary that General Lee lead this charge?" Cries of, "No! No!" rang out, accompanied by the reply, "If Lee will only go to the rear we will rout the enemy." As Lee's horse was led to the rear they charged, turning disaster into victory.

DEDICATION

It is the privilege of the 1932 Wolf to dedicate this section of the annual to our director of student activities, who has given so much time and attention to their advancement.

His unceasing efforts have started them on a new path, destined to spread the name of Loyola far and wide.

Thus, we, the staff of the 1932 Wolf, appreciate his efforts and congratulate him upon his success.

Radio Station W W L

Loyola University

Radio Station W W L began around 1911, when radio was in its infancy, and may be rightly considered as the pioneer broadcasting station of the Mississippi Valley.

Gradually, the station has grown and at present is one of the leading stations of the South, broadcasting many and varied programs. W W L maintains a cleared channel of 850 kilocycles and specializes in programs that are most interesting to the public. Educational programs comprise a large portion of the broadcast and musical selections of famous musicians are regular features of W W L.

The station maintains at present two studios, one at the spacious Monteleone Hotel and another in Bobet Hall on the University campus. Outside of these, there are remote-control lines to the Church of the Holy Name of Jesus, where every Sunday the High Mass is broadcast; also to Loyola Stadium, Loew's State Theatre, the New Slipper Night Club, the Kress Store and the New Orleans States, where daily the latest news and stock bulletins are broadcast.

At this writing, the authorities announce an additional grant of 5,000 watts and the building of a new transmitter outside of the city limits, where there will be erected one of the most modern and up-to-date stations in the state. New studios are to be constructed in the heart of the business district and new equipment to be installed will necessitate an expenditure of over one hundred thousand dollars.

W W L now has a staff of three announcers: Captain A. C. Pritchard, Eugene DuTriel and Edward Shaheen. Captain Pritchard serves as general manager and Mr. A. S. Foster is the commercial manager, who is ably assisted by a staff of six salesmen and two secretaries.

Under the guidance of this staff and with the assistance of the Reverends O. Abel and Wallace Burk, S.J., in addition to Mr. Ray N. Toups, assistant engineer, the station will constantly grow and will take the lead in broadcasting in the South.

LEE AT GETTYSBURG

On July 3rd, 1863, the last assault of the Confederate troops upon Gettysburg failed. Lee was among his baffled and shattered battalions as they retired from their brave attempt. With painful consciousness that his plans had been frustrated, and defeat and humiliation had overtaken his army, he openly assumed the entire responsibility of the campaign and of the last battle. One word would have relieved him of his responsibility, but he refused until it could be spoken without fear of doing the least injustice.

Wolfpack Holds Petrels 12 Times in Shadow of Own Goal to Win 12-7

Strong Oglethorpe Team Fails to Score in Last Quarter

By Bob Ainsworth

Loyola's "big mistake" of last year's football season, the defeat by Oglethorpe, was avenged with appropriate ceremonies Friday night, when the Wolf Pack put up the most spectacular defensive battle ever seen on a New Orleans gridiron to hold a first-half lead and win over the Petrels, score 12-7.

It was the most thrilling game Orleanians have ever witnessed, and the big crowd of more than 11,000 roared their appreciation of the magnificent line play of Loyola — the miracle playing which turned Oglethorpe back twelve times within the five-yard line.

Standing with their backs to the wall, a courageous Loyola line said, "They shall not pass." And by way of proving it they repulsed three separate threats, all coming within the last nine minutes of play, and every one of them from within the five-yard Loyola stripe.

The Oglethorpe eleven battled like demons in a vain effort to put over the ball after Herrin, their speedy quarterback, had broken through and caught Loyola flat-footed to race to the three-yard line before Ghee Moore tackled him and threw him out of bounds.

It looked like curtains here for the Pack, which had been holding on to a slim 12-7 lead. Four times Oglethorpe hit the line, and four times that fighting line turned them back. Loyola supporters breathed easier.

On the first play Lopez fumbled, and the ball was Oglethorpe's again. On came the Petrels again. This time certain were they that they could dent the Maroon line. But they reckoned not with the courage of the Loyola forward wall. Four times they hit the line, trying desperately, savagely, to place the oval just beyond that last white stripe. But again Loyola held, held, held, and held. It was a mighty exhibition of courage by Loyola.

Loyola to Play Eleven Games in '32

The Wolfpack of Loyola of the South will include eleven games in its 1932 football campaign. The Pack will engage the St. Louis University eleven, St. Xavier of Cincinnati, Detroit, Birmingham Southern, Chattanooga, Oglethorpe, Rice Institute, Baylor, University of North Dakota, St. Edwards, and Santa Clara of California.

This schedule will present to football fans a very good season of football, and the Wolves will be pushed to the limit in each game to come out on top.

Blue Key Has First Meeting of New Year

Blue Key, National Honorary Activity fraternity, held its first meeting of 1932 in the Tyrolean Room at Kolb's Restaurant, Sunday evening, January 10. The gathering was the first since the installation banquet held early in December.

Problems pertaining to student life were discussed at the conclusion of the supper, and the members were unanimous in their support of any move the Student Council might make to discover, if so, why there was overemphasis on football, and why there was to be no basketball at Loyola this winter.

A committee composed of Harold Rouchell, chairman, Carl Buchmann and John Oulliber was appointed to revise the constitution, to fit the needs of the local group. The next meeting will be held early in February.

Members present were: Harold Rouchell, Carl Buchmann, John Oulliber, Paul Reising, Felicien Lozes, Leo C. Zinser, William Dardis, Edward Lucas, and Temple Black.

'Twas Ever Thus!

The late John S. Chapman is best remembered by the bar as a lawyer of profound learning and a forceful and eloquent advocate. His friends, however, recall that behind his dignified bearing and serious manner there was concealed a keen wit, of which the following is an example:

Upon leaving the courthouse after a masterful argument to the court, Mr. Chapman was congratulated by an associate in the case. "That was a wonderful argument," he said "I only hope that it did not go over the Judge's head. The Judge, you know, is no longer the lawyer that he used to be."

"No," said Chapman, "he is not, and what is more, he never was."—Los Angeles Bar Association Bulletin.

Shakespeare Says

"What, you egg—." (Act IV, Scene II, Macbeth.)

"Come, go we to the king—" (Act IV, Scene III, Macbeth), which shows that even old Bill didn't know whether he was coming or going at times.

A lot of interesting things which would be censored if an attempt was made to print them here. (For info. regarding play, act, scene, and lines of aforesaid things of interest, send us a stamped, self-addressed, unsealed envelope.)

SHADOWS ON THE ROCK

(By Willa Sibert Cather.) Alfred A. Knopf, Publisher.

This, it seems to me, is Willa Cather's best book, which is greater praise than all the adjectives; and I am not saying it because this is her latest, but because I truly believe it so.

I believe my readers are aware of my intense admiration for the works of Willa Cather. I think she has an excellent chance of attaining literary immortality, though such achievement seems impossible for the great majority of her contemporaries. The rank and file of modern authors, unfortunately, are rather insignificant. It is only the Cathers and Faulkners and Remarques who save us.

Cather is, however, unlike Faulkner and Remarque, in that she arrives at her ultimate goal through sheer orthodoxy, a procedure which is very unusual in our age. This, more than anything else perhaps, points towards survival. This sense of sweet orthodoxy pervades even her most impressionistic and realistic passages.

Now I do not wish to lend the impression that all orthodoxy is sweet. The truth is, I can think of no one else who could make it so. Perhaps it is Cather's fine touch. Perhaps it is her level-headed, yet artistic, temperament. At any rate, the modeling, moderating influence is felt—and enjoyed.

"Shadows on the Rock" is huge entertainment. It is a worthy successor to "Death Comes for the Archbishop."

The rock is the granite mass which supports the charming city of Quebec. The shadows are those of the valiant eighteenth-century French pioneers who first created "Kebec" in the heart of the frightening Canadian wilderness. It is hard to say which "shadow" is more interesting and charming. There is the lovable old apothecary, with his wines and medicines; his capable and very beautiful young pioneer daughter who loves miracles; the hardy, lovable and good-looking hero, Pierre Charron, who goes among the sav-

Quake Recorded by Loyola Seismograph

An earthquake, neither the direction nor intensity of which could be determined, was picked up at 9:15 A.M. Friday on the seismograph at Loyola University, according to the Rev. O. L. Abel, S. J.

"Due to the high winds and weather conditions, our instrument only picked up the long wave lengths showing a quake," Father Abel said. These began at about 9:15 A.M. The preliminary wave lengths by which the approximate distance and intensity of an earthquake might be determined were stopped from recording on the machine by the weather disturbances."

A CDX Dental X-Ray Unit—

you will need one in your new office

LEADERS in the dental profession have their own X-ray units. They find that making their own radiographs enables them to spend their time more profitably and speeds their work with greater efficiency and accuracy. The fact that many of these leaders have chosen the CDX Dental X-Ray Unit evidences its superiority. The CDX Dental X-Ray Unit hangs suspended from the wall. It is 100% electrically safe. You and your patient can touch the CDX while in operation without any danger of shock. And owning a CDX is not an expense. Our liberal monthly payment plan will enable you to pay each monthly installment from the revenues derived and still have a profit. In starting out you cannot afford to be without this important tool of your profession. Write for full information.

FILL AND REFILL

ALL-AMERICAN

Fill and Refill takes great pleasure in announcing their first annual All-American "charm" team, picked from members of L. A. S. C. The team was picked by Fill and Refill, with the assistance of Slantland Dice, noted sports writer; Mahatama Ghandi, the suppressed desire of the L. A. S. C.; and Popeye, who knows his pulchertood.

Approbations of the selections have been made by visiting football squads, and they are unanimous in their agreement in naming it as their all-opponent team.

The selections follow:

Audrey Black.....Left End
Noel Cahill.....Left Tackle
Marie L. Salisbury.....Left Guard
Gertrude Foley (c).....Center
A. Grundmann.....Right Guard
Rosemary Cahill.....Right Tackle
Orient Eberhardt.....Right End
Mignon Deynoodt.....Right Half
Loretta Morvant.....Left Half
Stella Harrigan.....Full Back
Lillian Ory.....Quarterback
Sewall Oertling.....Coach
Adrien Drouilhet.....Water Boy
Mascot .....(Censored)

Like all selections of All-American teams, the judges spent much time and money in making their choices. Some of the selections were very close, while others were selected unanimously.

Gertrude Foley, captain and center, was one of the unanimous choices. The judges picked this brilliant player for her stellar work against the opposition during the season without a murmur; in fact, with a smile. Even Big Tim, from Notre Dame, fell before the terrible charging of Foley.

The tackle team of Cahill and Cahill smeared the opposition with nonchalant ease. Only one man was able to make considerable gains over the younger Cahill, and he—well, blushed too becomingly for us to mention his name.

Orient Eberhardt and Audrey Black won their positions for their ability to snag them from the air, ground, and dark corners. Black's soulful face kept the opposition in tears during many struggles. (Cf. Nick Masters.)

There was a close race for the position of quarterback, but Lillian Ory submerged as victor. Her diminutive size and her ability to call signals in that plaintive voice were the deciding factors.

Stella Harrigan's weight and drive (the blue Ford) caused her unanimous approval for the position of full back. She was a thorn in the side of every one.

Marie Louise Salisbury and Aida Grundmann won their positions as guards for their wonderful offensive work. Their defense was poor, but the best defense is an offense, especially in a "charm" squad.

Mignon Deynoodt and Loretta Morvant had only to smile to defeat the opposition, the former to make them weaken, and the latter to scare 'em away.

Oertling was picked as coach for his wonderful work at the tea dances during the entire season. (And can that boy learn 'em something?)

For the water boy selection, see the captain of the team.

The judges wish to state that they are satisfied with the results and will pick another team next year, if they survive.

WOLFPACK HOLDS

Bob Smith dropped back to kick out of danger and was rushed, getting off a poor kick which went only to the 22-yard line.

And Oglethorpe was off again, fighting fiercely for that last dying chance to put the ball over and win the game. Three minutes remained to be played. Down the Petrels marched on the Loyola stronghold, and it was first down on the six-yard line.

On the first play Walker, sub-quarterback, lost four yards. Myers got back a yard, and Walker moved the ball up to the five-yard line. Walker made the final thrust; and when the smoke had cleared, he was still some distance away from the touchdown which would have meant victory to the visitors.

Loyola jumped into the lead within the first four minutes of play. The Wolves kicked off to Oglethorpe, and the Petrels fumbled on their third play, giving the Pack the ball on Oglethorpe's 26-yard line. Driving line plays by Zelden, Booth, and Lopez carried the ball to the two-yard line where Lopez took it over for the touchdown. Smith's try for placement was blocked.

The Petrels took the kickoff again and worked the ball steadily down the field, chalking up five consecutive first downs. But Loyola stopped them at the 24-yard line.

In the second period after an exchange of punts, Oglethorpe started goalwards again. Meyers broke loose through the middle of the line and, behind splendid blocking by his mates, outraced the Loyola secondary to score after a 33-yard dash. Anderson's drop kick went squarely through the middle, and Oglethorpe had a one-point lead that looked as big as a million.

Genard, Loyola's fleet sophomore running back, was inserted here, and the Pack started a drive to another touchdown. From the 40-yard line in Loyola territory the ball was taken to the 25-yard stripe. The Petrels got a 15-yard penalty, and then Moore pulled one out of Shaughnessy's touchdown bag by sending Sam Love, an end, around the Oglethorpe right side. Love traveled as if on the wings of the wind, with the pigskin tucked snugly within his arm, and before the Petrels knew exactly what had happened an end had won the game with a beautiful 11-yard run to a touchdown.

What happened during the last period has already been related.

Oglethorpe gained almost twice as much yardage from scrimmage as Loyola, and made 17 first downs to 10 by the Pack. But they met a line which was battling for dear life, and which would not be whipped until the last ounce of energy had been rung from their tired bodies.

MAROONED

By Bill Scheyd

THE PESSIMIST

Most everything we read nowadays is optimistic in tone, so in order to be a little different, we decided to become "old-fashionedly" pessimistic.

The sunshine and the flowers—Bah!
It rains and flowers fade;
Some have success and power—Ah!
But more hit the down-grade.

You say there's love and beauty—Yeh!
But what good does it do?
Your present life's a duty—And
You've got to see it through.

If you're happy, why—you die young,
Or so it seems to you;
But if you're sick and wretched, then—
Life's long and makes you blue.

Somehow, there are those mortals—Shux!
Who, to life, tightly cling;
It gives them naught but sorrow—But
They think joys it will bring.

Ever hoping, ever saying,
"Tomorrow's a new day."
The fools—if they but knew it—'Twill
Be much worse than today.

You look for a conclusion—Ah!
But sure—there isn't any.
"Just smile on in delusion"—Tho'
You haven't got a penny.

To the tune of that English hit song, "Give yourself a pat on the back," we wish to mention that the Maroon Campus Night of Sunday, the 17th, was nobly done. The pantomime, "Fair and Warmer," the "Telephone Reconciliation" skit, with Leo Zinser and John Schilleci, and Tim Duggan with his banjo, were the features which seemed to find most favor, although the audience was generous in its applause for the other high spots on the program.

One well-known lad on the campus thought he would be able to escape the ravages of cigarette bummers by adopting the roll-your-own type of fag. Now he's sore because the O. P. smokers not only get the makin's from him, but ask him to roll 'em, too.

age Indians and partakes of such delicacies as serpent soup, sponge salad, and dogs boiled with blue-berries; the old Bishop Laval who is extremely kind to everybody save himself; the highly practical Mother Juschereau, and a host of others.

Miss Cather handles all of her characters with great finesse. Even her torturer and her prostitutes are treated with a delicate tolerance which only goes to make the book more enjoyable. And I sincerely hope that Mrs. Marcy will be swamped with requests to meet all these charming and lovable "shadows."

Toasts That You May Use

To Here and Hereafter

Here's hoping in this game of life
You may not get cold feet;
And when you've left this world of strife,
You may not mind the heat.

To Wisdom

Here's to the man who takes a wife,
May he make no mistake,
For it makes a lot of difference
Whose wife it is you take.

To Temperaence

Here's to the man whose heart is light,
Who has no time for sorrow;
The man who is never drunk at night,
Nor ever dry on the morrow.

To Debt

Here's to debt—it besets our ways—
It bothers our nights and bothers our days;
But the man of the minute
Is always in it,
And base is the slave that pays.

To The Pessimist

Here's to the man who is worried and blue,
Take a drink! Cheer up! It may not be true.

To the Optimist

Here's to him who makes the best
Of goods before him spread;
For this world is what we make it, and
We're a deuce of a long time dead.

Disturbance

"Wasn't it awful the way Henry snored in church this morning?"

"Yes, I could hardly get a wink of sleep myself."

Judge: "Have you anything to offer the court before sentence is passed?"

Prisoner: "No, your honor; I had ten dollars, but my lawyer took it all."

Collegiate History

"What was George Washington noted for?"

"His memory."

"What makes you think his memory was so great?"

"They erected a monument to it."

Family Tradition

A little fellow who had just felt the hard side of a slipper turned to his mother for consolation.

"Mother," he asked, "did granpa thrash father when he was a little boy?"

"Yes," answered his mother impressively.

"And did his father thrash him when he was little?"

"Yes."

"And did his father thrash him?"

"Yes."

A pause—

"Well, who started this thing, anyway?"

To Friendship

Here's to the tongue of friendship;
May it ever hold its sway.
This tongue, while always generous,
Never gives a thing away.

Dumbell (at Scotch football game): "Why don't they kick off? They should have started a half hour ago."

Scotty: "Something serious has happened."

Dumbell: "Some one hurt?"

Scotty: "No, they can't find the penny they tossed up."

A colored Baptist was exhorting. "Now, breddern and sistren, come up to the altar and have your sins washed away."

All came up but one man.

"Why, Brudder Jones, don't yo' want yo' sins washed away?"

"I done had my sins washed away."

"Yo' has? Where yo' had yo' sins washed away?"

"Ober at de Methodist church."

"Ah, Brudder Jones, yo' ain't been washed; yo' has jes' been dry cleaned."

He was from the country, and he was also a Yankee, and from behind his bowed spectacles he peered inquisitively at the little Jew who occupied the other half of the car seat with him.

The little Jew looked at him. "Nice day," he began politely.

"You're a Jew, ain't you?" queried the Yankee.

"Yes, sir, I'm a clothing salesman," handing him a card.

"But you're a Jew?"

"Yes, I'm a Jew," came the answer.

"Well," continued the Yankee, "I'm a Yankee, and in the little village in Maine where I come from I'm proud to say there ain't no Jews."

"Yes," replied the little Jew, "that's why it's yet a village."

FLASH

Loyola's own fiery business manager, J. Skelly Wright, the reputed political boss, has surpassed all previous records for securing advertising copy. Skelly has drawn his victims from all businesses and walks of life.

Throughout the year many wild tales as to the methods employed by the high-powered salesman have appeared, but Skelly denies all these and states that since his first appearance at Loyola he has never made any one the victim of his unescapable sales talks.

Mr. Wright claims the advertising championship of the state of Louisiana, and present rumors have it that he will take over the reins of some large advertising concern at the end of his course of studies.

Many have said that Skelly has chosen law as a sideline study in order to keep out of trouble, and as yet Mr. Wright has made no denial of the rumor.

A colored minister was preaching on the subject of "Creation" and stated that the first man was a black man. "Yes, and de Lord leaned him against a picket fence, and when he dried he had bleached out white."

One of his congregation called out, "Who made de picket fence?"

"Bruder Johnson, dem's jest de questions dat spoils religion."

Two men were hotly discussing the merits of a book. Finally one of them, himself an author, said to the other:

"No, John, you can't appreciate it. You never wrote a book yourself."

"No," retorted John, "and I never laid an egg, but I'm a better judge of an omelet than any hen in the state."

A school teacher was trying to make a class understand what a volcano is like. In reviewing the lesson she drew on the blackboard her own conception of a flaming mountain, using colored crayon with extraordinary effect.

"What is it?" she asked. The scholars shook their puzzled heads. "What does it look like?" she pursued.

A small boy soberly answered: "It looks like hell, ma'am."

A Chicago banker was dictating a letter. "Tell Mr. Williams," he said, "that I will meet him in Schenectady."

"How do you spell Schenectady?" asked the stenographer.

"S-c, S-c—er—er—er—O, tell him I'll meet him in Albany."

Young William had been sadly misbehaving, and his mother took him upon her knee for a serious talk.

"Willie," said she sorrowfully, "every time you are naughty I get another gray hair."

"Gee," said Willie, "you must have been a terror! Look at grandpa!"

Uncle Nehemiah, the proprietor of a ramshackle little hotel in Mobile, was aghast at finding a newly arrived guest with his arm around his daughter's waist.

"Mandy, tell dat niggah to take his ahm 'way from 'round yo' waist," he indignantly commanded.

"Tell him yo'self," said Mandy. "He's a puffect stranger to me."

A Unique Will

A merchant was told he had a month to live. He called in a lawyer and said: "Fix it so that my overdraft at the bank goes to my wife; she can explain it. My equity in my car goes to my son. He will then have to go to work to keep up the payments. Give my good will to the supply houses. They took some awful chances on me and are entitled to something. My equipment you can give to the junkman; he has had his eye on it for several years—and I want six of my creditors for pallbearers. They have carried me so long they might as well finish the job."—Lackawana Jurist.

Loyola's First Campus Night Big Success

Auxiliary to Student Council Presents Two-Act Farce

A two-act farce, "Mrs. Mainwaring's Management," was the feature attraction of the first campus night in the history of Loyola University held last Saturday at 8 P.M. in Marquette Auditorium before a crowded and enthusiastic gathering of students, alumni, and friends of Loyola University.

Marie Louise Salisbury, in her first public appearance on the stage, played the leading role in the comedy with the poise of a seasoned actress. Audrey Black, as the emotional Sylvia Thorne, proved capable and at times stole the center of the stage from the other members of the cast. Elizabeth Gherkin and Loretta Morvant were adequate in the roles of two ingenues, the latter at times rising to heights, especially in the emotional scenes. The male members of the cast—Carl Buchmann, Marnell Segura, and Nicholas Masters—were ideally cast, as the three youthful swains who, for the purposes of winning a bet, almost lost the love of their sweethearts. The play was directed by Alfred J. Bonomo, director of the Loyola Thespians.

Collegiate songs were rendered by Clet A. Girard, Gonnie Owen, Temple Black, and William Scheyd between the acts.

Naval Reserve Accepts Seven Loyola Studes

Seven Loyola students have been accepted and have been issued uniforms in the United States Naval Reserve, it was announced by Ensign R. M. B. Adams, professor of Mathematic and officer in charge of the Loyola contingent.

The following students have been accepted: Charles Carstens, Kent Barber, R. Whitmeyer, Bill Grillett, Joseph J. Martina, J. de Felice, and Adrien Drouhilet.

Under Ensign Adams the men were taught squad manouvers and went through signal drills. Adams also taught them to send and receive semaphore signals.

The squad is divided into three divisions. Each Sunday one of the divisions will be taken on a cruise down the Mississippi River and into the Gulf. During these cruises the embryo sailors will have the opportunity of putting into practice the signals and manouvers they have learned in the weekly drills.

It was announced last night that Clet Girard, post-graduate student, who had been assisting Ensign Adams in training these men, had received his commission as ensign in the United States Naval Reserves. The commission came through the local commandant from Washington.

HULDA OF HOLLAND

"Hulda of Holland," the first operetta ever to be staged at Loyola University, was given by the Loyola Glee Club in Marquette Auditorium for three performances, beginning on Saturday, February 27.

This operetta, which was the high light of an intensely active year in amateur theatricals at Loyola, was written by May Hewes Dodge and John Wilson Dodge. It is remembered that they are the authors of such well-known musical comedies as "El Bandido," "In Old Louisiana," and "The Gypsy Rover."

The Glee Club was graciously helped in this presentation by the L. A. S. C., the Loyola Orchestra and the Ursuline Glee Club.

The principal members of the cast included Miss Mignon Deynoodt, Alex Cavell, Paul Capdevielle, Miss Jane Talty, Al Leach, Miss Jean S. Owin, Joe Douglas and Lloyd Salathe. There was also the chorus of thirty-five mixed voices.

"Hulda of Holland," a royalty play, as were most of the other Loyola presentations, made a tremendous hit. In fact, all of the Loyola theatrical efforts of the year were excellently received.

As we go to press, other engagements are pending, notably with the Little Theatre of Algiers.

A Word of Thanks

The staff of the 1932 "Wolf" wishes to acknowledge their appreciation and to express their thanks to all who so earnestly co-operated with them in the publication of this year's annual.

To Father Janssen, the director of Student Activities; to the deans and regents of the different departments; to the Maroon, for publicity; to the advertisers, for their help; to the Varenholt studios; to the Wrigley Engraving Company; and to the Benson Printing Company, for their earnest co-operation and aid which was a prominent factor in the success of the book.

To the above and to all students who lent a helping hand, we wish to express our sincere appreciation, and to say that we hope this book will be pleasing to all the students, as it has been the result of our best efforts.

THE 1932 WOLF,
EDWARD J. LUCAS, Editor.

SECOND GUESSING

By Bob Ainsworth

LOYOLA COMES BACK

The Loyola-Santa Clara game turned out to be a dog-eat-dog game, as you perhaps are aware, after having seen the great battle waged up and down the Loyola grid Thanksgiving afternoon and evening.

And it brought out one big fact, which was written in capital letters all over the field—Loyola has COURAGE, plenty of it.

A finer comeback was never made by a football team. At the half the Pack appeared hopelessly beaten and was behind by a 13-0 score. They had already been counted out.

But they came back in the second half and proceeded to play the Broncos from California off their feet. We have never seen more inspired play. However, the Wolves wore themselves down to a frazzle making a touchdown, and after coming near a tie they finally had to give in. Every last ounce of physical energy had been wrung from their tired and worn bodies.

Such fighting as that deserves commendation. It is foolish to speak of a team having won a moral victory. Coach Shaughnessy once wrote: "It takes a thoroughbred to win; any mongrel can lose." But if a team could achieve glory in defeat, Loyola won that honor by the magnificent display of courage Turkey Day.

We feel that this game has redeemed the Pack in the eyes of its supporters, and certainly it has endeared the name Loyola to every red-blooded football fan in the city.

Seems They Knew Everything Down in Judee

Our recently printed antidote of a child saying that the foolish virgins "ran out of gas" reminded a reader of another Sunday school story.

A teacher asked the class what was meant by a man "possest of evil spirits."

After a brief pause, one youngster spoke up: "It means a bootlegger."—Boston Transcript.

Four-Footed Deputy

The chief constable of a small English town was also an expert veterinary surgeon. One night his telephone bell rang.

"Is Mr. Blank there?" said an agitated voice.

Mrs. Blank answered "Yes" and inquired: "Do you want my husband in his capacity of veterinary surgeon or as chief constable?"

"Both, madam," came the reply. "We can't get our new bulldog to open his mouth, and—there's a burglar in it."—Boston Transcript.
